VETTER IN EXCELLENT FORM ALLOWS 1 HIT

SATURDAY.

Ancient Rivals of Maple City Team Go Down For Two Defeats-Vet-ter's Slow Curve Got Them Going -Large Crowd Saw Game.

William Vetter was THE hero in Honesdale on Saturday when the locals defeated their ancient rivals ed at Lake Huntingdon, Cullivan Co., from Carbondale by the scores of 11 on Friday of last week. Eggers to 2 and 1 to 0 in the first double was summering at the home of Geo. neader in one afternoon in the town's history. Vetter pitched the whole gunning during the morning in eighteen innings, allowing but seven hits in the first game and but one very scratchy hit in the second game when Dondican heat cut a band about other work. A little later the game when Dondican beat out a bunt to Slim Mangan. The fact that Man-gan's arm is in had condition arm is in bad condition gave Dondican his hit, for with a good In handling the weapon, it was acdican would never have been safe.

all they could do was lift a small pop fly or send slow roller to the infield. Vetter's pace during the whole dental. game was the same. He was about as excited and as heated as a block of ice, no matter whether the bases were full or not. He received good support, especially in the second game, the all around work of Capt. Brader featuring.

Carbondale came here with intentions of capturing both games of this double header and thereby winning the series as they were strengthened by two Jermyn players of the County League, Mack and Dondican, but they had not counted on one William Vetter of Vetter did not start the first game as though he was going to make any records, as Carbondale scored in the second inning on an error by Stevens and a hit by Craft. They scored again in the third on two solid two-base wallops, but after that Vetter had everything his own way with the aid of rattling good support from his team mates. Hones-dale made five runs in the third inning on three hits, a sacrifice, three errors and a hit batsman. The whole Carbondale team seemed to go "ballooning" in this inning which was McAndrew's last on the rubber. We scored two more in the fourth with Dondican pitching when Brader, Lily and Sandy hit in succession. the seventh three more crossed the plate. Weaver hit for two bases and Stevens and Larson singled and Fee allowed a throw in from center field to go through him. Hones-dale's last run was scored in the eighth when Brader and Lily both hit for one base and Dondican threw to the bleachers trying to get Brader off first.

For six innings in the game only three men in each inning faced Vetter and no one reached first base. It looked bad for "Bill" in the seventh for a few minutes. erred on Craft's grounder and Dondican beat out his bunt, (Carbondale's only hit) and both moved up a base when Larson fumb-led a throw to catch Craft at second. Walker attempted to bunt and popped a fly into Mangan's hands, the ball to Brader at third, completing a nice double play. Brader whipped the ball to second and came within about one-eighth of an inch of making a triple p'ay of Honesdale scored its only run off very creditable game, in the ninth inning. Sandy started it with a clean single. Tarkett was safe on an error by Barrett; Weaver bunted to Watkins who caught Sandy at third, Faatz rolled another one to Watkins who again, by tossing to third, caught Tarkett. Larson lined one to Carpenter who threw to the bleachers and Weaver scored the only run of one of the best games ever seen on the Honesdale grounds. Here are the scores:

It is closer to home, and we don't believe either Port Jervis or Milford have anything that can beat us.

Many a merchant has been too busy wondering what the parcel post was going to do for his competitor, the mail order house, to consider that it might have in it some good for himself. Yet instead of being a bugbear, threatening destructive competition, the parcel post in actu-ality broadens tremendously the smaller merchant's field of trade possibilities. It enables him to deal with every person within fifty miles of his place of business at a lower postal rate and much more expeditiously than any concern outside his district can. It was found, how-ever, impossible to secure any number of eggs, first because the supply in the United States was limited and second because the Dominion of Can-ada had a law which forbade the exporting of salmon eggs.

The Quinnat Salmon was then tried, but failed to produce results, because it was believed that the natural spawning latitude of that fish was too far north. A conference was then held between Commissioner Meehen and Commissioner Bowers and Deputy Commissioner Smith of the United States Bureau of Fisheries. The two later were equally in-terested with Commissioner Meehan in the establishment of salmon in the Delaware. The result of the conference was that the United States agreed to forward annually for a series of years of the silver sal-mon, a fish which spawns about the same latitude as the Atlantic salmon. Also to Raise Standard of Sports-manship— Officers Elected and Delegates to Convention at Scranton This Week Chosen.

A branch camp of the United Sportsmen of Pennsylvania was or-ganized last Thursday by David Pritchard of Scranton, state president of the organization with charter members. The meeting was opened by Mr. Pritchard and on request of F. H. Eisele, E. B. Callaway acted as temporary chairman. Officers were elected as follows:

Treasurer, H. G. Rowland, Following organization delegates to the State convention which will be held in Scranton Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week were chosen. Those elected were Fred Michels, F. H. Eisele, Charles lloff; alternates, H. C. VanAlstyne, W. G. Blakney, O. M. Spettigue, Sr.

Mr. Pritchard then told the object of the society, reading Article
2 of the Constitution, which follows:
The objects of this organization shall be the advancement of the interests of fish, game and forestry; the raising of the standard of sportsmanship among fishermen and hunt-ers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; the purification of the wa-ter supply, also to aid the fishery, game and forestry authorities of the commonwealth, in framing, passing and maintaining proper laws for the protection and increase of fish, game and the forests; to observe and as-sist in enforcing all the laws relating to fish, game and forestry, and to recognize and assist fellow-sportsmen.

He stated that the organization has 110 camps in the state of Penn-sylvania with a membership of about 40,000. The camp will meet once a month. Mr. Pritchard told a number of interesting things that the camp is doing and said that it is not affiliated with any political party, that he as president, would not stand for anything of the kind. He explained the new Hunters' license, told of its advantages over the old law and how it would protect the farmer's property. The new hunt-ers' license is $1. Half of this amount goes toward paying bounties on obnoxious animals.

President Pritchard highly praised State Fish Commissioner N. P. Buller. Said the organization owes a great deal to this man.
